OPEN-ENDED QUESTIONS

What are the primary strengths and weaknesses of the teaching assistant?

Comments
She was great
The box is too small to express how well Julia Turner did in her role as a teaching assistant this quarter. She answered the most basic, google-able questions with patience and grace. She was receptive to student needs. She made time to help everyone really grasp these concepts. She is so brilliant. I can't wait to see all the amazing things she does in her career.
Julia is great! Valuable feedback and understood students' struggle using Stata for the first time.
Always available and helpful – great TA!
One of the best, most dedicated TA's I've had here!!
she was great and super helpful. thank you
One of the best TAs I've ever had!!!! Cannot thank her enough
Strengths: literally everything. I can genuinely say Julia was the best TA I have ever had at Northwestern. She was so nice and friendly and made sure we had the resources we needed to succeed in the class. She responded super quickly to questions over email (even on the weekend!) and was always very clear. She advocated for students to get the format of the final changed. She is super knowledgeable and really knew the course content well. Cannot say enough great things!
Julia was absolutely incredible. I do not think I would have passed this class if not for her efforts both inside and outside of the classroom. She went above and beyond what was asked of her.
Julia was so helpful explaining STATA, the problem sets, and any question at all about the course!!
Julia was the best TA that I've ever had at Northwestern. She was so smart, caring, and helpful. I think she could've taught the class herself and it would've been amazing. She spent so much time helping us through all the problem sets and preparing us for exams. Appreciate her so much! Her strengths are everything and weaknesses are none.
Best TA ever, thank you so so much Julia! So friendly, nice and willing to help always
Her office hours were very helpful! She explained concepts and methods really well, which was very helpful for the exam. She was very approachable and open to answering questions about the class content.
